Message

Police Organisations across the country are continuously upgrading their skills and equipment to match the ever-growing challenges of law and order and crime. To achieve this, Police Forces have been procuring various kinds of equipment on a regular basis. The Ministry of Home Affairs has also been supporting and supplementing these efforts by providing Annual Financial Grants under the Modernisation of Police Forces Scheme.

To assist the Police Organisations in their modernisation efforts, the Bureau of Police Research and Development has been regularly publishing the Compendium of Equipment purchased by the Police Forces. This Compendium contains the details of equipment, their unit cost, brand and the name of the vendors. The Compendium acts as a ready reckoner for Police Organisations to be consulted while preparing their Annual State Action Plan. The present publication, in two volumes, covers the data of purchases from April, 2019, to March, 2020. The compilation work for the period from April, 2020, to March, 2021, is already underway.

I thank all the Police Forces of States, Union Territories, CAPFs and CPOs for providing the requisite data to the BPR&D, in time. I also record my deep appreciation for Dr. Karuna Sagar, IG/Director (Modernisation) and his team, comprising of Dr. Raveesh Kumar, PSO (Weapons), Sh. S. Mukesh Kumar, DEO, and Ms. Neha, DEO.

I am sure, this Compendium will help the Police Organisations save a lot of time in planning their procurement.

Message

The BPR&D has been at the forefront of promoting good practices and standards among the police forces across the country. To engage with the emerging challenges, our police forces are upgrading themselves through capacity building and procurement of appropriate hardware, including Weapons, Gadgets, IT Systems, as well as infrastructure and technologies relating to Buildings, Traffic, Machinery and Articles of Clothing, etc.

In order to catalogue the procurements made by the Police Forces, the 'Compendium of Equipment', in its updated edition, is being published as a ready reckoner for the period April, 2019 – March, 2020.

I would like to compliment the Modernisation Division of the Bureau, led by Shri Karuna Sagar, IPS, and his team, for the timely publication of this important document.

The Bureau would be happy to receive suggestions from the readers for improving the content and presentation of the compendium.

Executive Summary

Having Comprehensive & orderly data on products, equipment & technology already procured and in use, is the first step towards planning & provisioning for police forces for optimum utilization of resources allocated.

The Bureau of Police Research and Development under the Ministry of Home Affairs is committed to promoting good practices and standards in policing. In the series of the Compendium of Equipment, the BPR&D has brought out a Compendium of Equipment for the period of the April 2019- March 2020. Before this, earlier compendia were published in 2011, 2014, and 2020.

The work of publishing this compendium was initiated in May 2020 when all the 28 States & 8 Union Territories along with 7 CAPFs (43 in all) were requested to provide data in the BPR&D designed format for the period from April 2019 to March 2020 under 09 Categories (Security Gadgets, Weapons, Machinery & Equipment, Communication, Information Technology, Traffic & Transport, Forensic & Medical, Clothing and Tentage, Miscellaneous Equipment). Till Dec 2020, only 11 Organisations had provided data, and with rigorous efforts and coordination, this number rose to 43. The last data was received in April 2021

Additional information on the mode of procurement was added to make the compendium more useful. During the processing of information for the compendium of equipment published in 2020, it was observed that some organizations had given the total cost of an item instead of unit cost. However, this time, the unit cost was calculated at our end and the value has been rounded off to the nearest rupee. The items have been divided into various categories and these categories have been further divided into subcategories. Under each Subcategory, items have been listed organisation-wise and shall appear alphabetically. For this compendium, the data of more than 6000 items with 9 sets of information overall was processed.

As the data provided by the Police organization is significantly voluminous, it has been decided to publish in two volumes. Volume I comprises the data on Weapons, Security Gadgets, Communication, Forensic & Medical, Special Equipment and Transport & Traffic categories, whereas Volume II lists data on Clothing&Tentage, Information Technology and Machinery & Equipment

We sincerely hope that this publication fills the gap projected by police organizations in Procurement Planning.
