Message

I am happy to present the second edition of the Correctional Services Bulletin of the BPR&D. The aim is to keep all our partners and stakeholders updated on various activities and developments, in pursuit of its mandate to serve the interests of both the Police and the Correctional Administration departments, which are two vital pillars of the criminal justice system. While the first is charged with the tasks of prevention and detection of crime, the second is expected to work towards reforming the deviant elements placed in their custody.

Even though Prison is a State Subject as per the Constitution of India, considering their importance, the Government of India has, over the years, been providing the State Governments with all requisite support and assistance to modernize the prisons across the country and facilitate the task of rehabilitation and reformation of prisoners.

The periodical collection, assimilation, review, and dissemination of information from States/UTs would result in the overall betterment of prisons and correctional services in our country.

We, at BPR&D, are committed to our motto of 'Promoting Good Practices and Standards', for the Indian Police, Prisons and sister organizations.

I hope the readers find this Correctional Services Bulletin informative and useful. Feel free to give feedback to help us add value to the publication.

बंदी की कलम से सलाखों का अहसास

जेल की सलाखों में, मैंने आकर देखा,
जो रोक सके एक इंसान को, वह अहसास देखा,
दिखने को तो यह लोहे की सलाखें हैं,
पर इन सलाखों के पार मैंने अपना परिवार देखा।

देख कर जेल की ये चार दीवारें, मैं अपनी तकदीर नए सिरे से लिखता हूँ।

फिर से अपने परिवार के साथ जीने की तमन्ना रखता हूँ।

सलाखों के अहसास को मैं आज बयां करता हूँ।

अशक बहते हैं नयनों से पश्चाताप की महाधार बनकर,

दिल रोता है अपनी गलतियों पर, इस जिंदगी की अनमोल दरकार बन कर।

फिर से जेल न आने वाली मेरी किस्मत की, एक लकीर लिखता हूँ।

सलाखों के अहसास को मैं आज बयां करता हूँ।

नयन कहते हैं कि, तू मुझको अशकों का समंदर बयां कर।

दिल कमबख्त कहता है कि, तू मुझको समंदर की गहराई बयां कर।

दिल तो चाहता है मेरा कि मैं आज शायराना अंदाज में बहुत कुछ बयां करूँ।

कमबख्त कोई सुनने वाला ही नहीं मुझको, मैं किसके सामने अपना अंदाज बयां करूँ।

सलाखों के पीछे अपने गुनाहों का अहसास करूँ।

Alternatives to Incarceration for the Mentally Ill Prisoners

-Prof. Dr. Beulah Emmanuel*

Alternatives to incarceration for mentally ill prisoners emphasize the urgent need for reform within the criminal justice system. It advocates for a paradigm shift towards more compassionate, evidence-based, and community-oriented approaches to address the complex challenges faced by individuals with mental illnesses involved in the legal system. Mentally ill is the most vulnerable category in prisons that could if not treated with care, may develop permanent damages mentally, physically and socially.

BEST PRACTISES IN THE WORLD PRISONS:

Mental Health Courts: Mental health courts are specialized court programs that focus on individuals with mental health conditions by providing a collaborative and problem-solving approach, linking individuals to community-based mental health services, treatment, and support rather than imposing incarceration. There are now over 300 mental health courts in the United States and the number continues to grow.

Diversion Programs: Forensic Assertive Community Treatment (FACT) programs aim to divert the mentally ill individuals away from the criminal justice system instead of being prosecuted or post-conviction diversion leading them to mental health treatment in the community rather than serving a prison sentence.

Transitional planning: Transitional planning is to coordinate services for people with substance use and mental health treatment needs in their communities upon release. The prisons need to coordinate with the mental health institutions in the community for continuum of treatment and to prevent recidivism.

Crisis Intervention Teams: Crisis Intervention Teams (CIT) is specialized police units that are trained to respond to mental health crises, CIT programs can help divert mentally ill individuals away from the criminal justice system and towards treatment.

Assisted Outpatient Treatment (AOT): Some states have implemented AOT programs, also known as involuntary outpatient commitment, which provides court-ordered mental health treatment for individuals with severe mental illness who may have a history of non-compliance with treatment and to reduce likelihood of incarceration.

Approved Premises: Approved Premises or bail hostels / probation hostels, provide accommodation and support for individuals with mental health issues who are released on bail or as part of a community sentence. It's important to note that these alternatives should be accompanied by comprehensive mental health assessments, individualized treatment plans, and on-going support to ensure the well-being and successful reintegration of mentally ill individuals. Collaborations between the criminal justice system, mental health providers, and community organizations are crucial to implementing effective alternatives for mentally ill prisoners.

Correctional Reform - A Novel Approach in District Jail Ghaziabad

- Alok Singh, Jail Superintendent, District Jail, Dasna, Ghaziabad.

Prison correction homes are an integral part of the Criminal Justice system where offenders are detained. Offenders spend considerable time in prisons during trial and while undergoing the sentence after they are convicted. In this period of their detention these people are provided opportunities for development of their personality, knowledge and skill so that they can be smoothly reintegrated into the society after their release.

In District Jail Ghaziabad various correctional programs like skill development programs, One Jail One Product Programmes, Learning Programs, Hobby based program are being offered to prisoners with the help and support of U.P. Govt. and NGO for their reformation and rehabilitation.

Conducting Hobby based programmes like music, dance, art and craft, pottery making, embroidery designing for prisoners have been very successful. Prisoners opt for these programmes not because of their compulsion but because of their interest, hence drop out from these programmes is least. Hobby programmes make the prisoners more relaxed and positive thereby decreasing their tension, negativity and stress level. These aesthetically good programmes are not only beautiful, to our eyes or sweet to our ears but have a calming effect not only on the performers but also to the viewers who observe it. It is also noticed that such participant prisoners become more creative, positive having constructive thoughts.

District Jail Ghaziabad is also trying to create career opportunities for these hobbies based courses so that these prisoners can earn from their creativity and can rehabilitate in society after their release from prison. In One Jail One Product, Ghaziabad Jail has selected Home Décor as its product where paintings, designer embroidery, Painted vase, potteries, Furnishing, art and craft created under Hobby based programmes are to be sold under One Jail One Product through Prisoners Cooperative Society Ghaziabad Jail and profit to be deposited in prisoners account.

There is dire need for innovative practice for Reformation and Rehabilitation so that the released prisoners can contribute to the society in positive manner.
