ALL INDIA POLICE SCIENCE CONGRESS

37th All India Police Science Congress-2006 (AIPSC) was organised in collaboration with Karnataka State Police from 6th - 8th June 2006 at Bangalore. The theme of the AIPSC included vision for 'Police 2010' and 'Police 2020', 'Training Strategies to Effect Behavioural and Attitudinal Changes in the Police Personnel' and 'Evolution of Norms for Manpower and Logistic Requirements at Police Station, sub-Division and District Levels'. More than 80 delegates from different parts of the country participated and deliberated on 17 papers presented during the congress. Police Officers of various ranks from all over the country, academicians, forensic scientists and officers from other law enforcement agencies exchanged views on various issues to find practical solutions for better policing. An exhibition of modern equipments including 'computerised under-cover mines, bomb disposal and explosive detection equipment', forensic techniques, and traffic management system was held during the Congress.

His Excellency the President of India, Dr. A.P.J. Abdul Kalam graced the inaugural session of the Congress and released a Souvenir. In his key note address, he underlined the challenges faced by the police in modern India and the various areas in which efforts should be made to strengthen the police to effectively participate in the national development efforts. He also administered the following oath to all the officers and men present:

"I am proud of being a member of this police force of high tradition. I will always be citizen friendly and promote peace everywhere. I will be lightning and thunder with all law-breakers. I will protect the elderly, women and children against any type of crime. I will be a role model for conduct and discipline. I will lead an honest life free from all corruption. My life is my nation."

He addressed the constables separately and had close interaction with them.

The valedictory session was addressed by the Hon'ble Home Minister of India, Shri Shivraj Patil, who expressed total confidence in the Indian Police and its abilities to face the challenges of the millennium to ensure a peaceful environment for India's prosperity.

The Police Science Congress 2006 was enriched by the participation of Justice (Dr.) V.S. Mallimath, Chairman, Criminal Justice Reform Committee, Shri Veerappa Moily, Chairman, Administrative Reforms Commission, Shri Sankar Sen, IPS (Retd), Prof. Sharat Chandra, Professor Emeritus, IISc. Bangalore, Dr. S.V. Joga Rao, Formerly faculty at NLSIU, Bangalore, and many other luminaries.

Apart from discussion on the main themes of the Congress, various experts gave presentations on cutting edge technological subjects like "DNA Finger Printing", "Digital Evidence", "e-governance", and "Cyber Crime".

In the inaugural session, Director General, BPR&D, Shri N.C. Joshi, gave the introductory address with a brief history of the Police Science Congress. Director General of Police, Karnataka, Shri B.S. Sial welcomed His Excellency the President of India and other dignitaries, delegates, and invitees. In the valedictory function Shri Joshi and Shri Sial gave brief summary of the deliberations and outlined the many useful suggestions and recommendations that had emerged as a result of the vigorous brain storming and discussions during the three days of the Congress.

Shri N.C. Joshi, Director General, Bureau of Police Research & Development, Shri R.C. Arora, Director (R&D), BPR&D and their team worked in tandem with Director General of Police, Karnataka, Shri B.S. Sial, Shri M.K. Srivastava, Additional DG, Chairman 37th All India Police Science Congress and their team of officers to make the Congress a grand success.

PRESENTATION

1. EAGLE LEA-IMS

Bureau had organised a presentation in Internet Monitoring System of M/s ECIL for Central Police Forces and State Police Forces on 15/6/06 at 1100 hours in BPR&D Conference Hall. The Internet Monitoring system can help Law Enforcement Agencies to:-

- i) Identify suspicious messages and users.
- ii) Read messages of suspected users.
- iii) Track all Internet activity of suspected users.
- iv) Identify and solve cyber crime.

This system of Internet Monitoring is based on proprietary traffic, de-coding and apparent matching technology. It does not need access to target machine. The advantages of this system are:-

- i) The key words can be specified in terms of words/phrases or user identities and system automatically captures and filters the relevant traffic. It has the ability to capture all types of protocols used over Internet.
- ii) It captures, analysis and displays relevant traffic in real time and thus allows further response on suspicious traffic.
- iii) It can capture and record voice over Internet.
- iv) It can find geographic location of intercepted messages.
- v) It generates an instant alarm whenever key targets go online.

2. Human Life Detection System

The Presentation was organized on “Life Guard System” of USA presented by M/s Jyotech Engg. & Marketing consultants, New Delhi on 15.06.06 in BPR&D Conference Hall. Officers from SPG, Rajasthan Police, ITBP, CISF, CRPF, CBI, NSG, SSB, Delhi Police and Assam Rifles attended the presentation.

The presentation made on Life Guard claims to locate “Living Human Beings” hiding or trapped behind barriers, without entering the area. This equipment works by passively detecting the ultra low frequencies and non-uniform electric field that heart of every living human being generates. It is typical to human beings, and the system is immune or does not respond to ultra low frequency produced by animals or other living creatures. The ultra low frequency so generated is able to pass through walls, earth, water and every obstacle. The equipment is very useful for:-

- i) Disaster search; earthquake, fire, structural collapse. ii) Mine rescue. iii) Anti terrorism; it can locate and track movement of terrorist behind barrier from a distance as far as 400-500 meters. iv) Port Security. v) Barrier patrolling.
